By airplane: Closest airports: Trieste, Venice, Treviso, Ljubljana (SLO)

GOAL?

In preparation for Nova Gorica/Gorizia being the 2025 European Capital of Culture, the Summerschool aim is to offer participants the opportunity to discover the great cultural richness and sociological quality of the coexistence implemented in this territory; this will be achieved through privileged meetings with witnesses, historians, anthropologists, sociologists, artists, tourist guides, visits to the territory, excursions, role-playing games, facilitators and experts in conflict management.

This territory, marked by a deep multilingualism since the Middle Ages, part of the Habsburg monarchy until the First World War, is now experiencing a very important moment, as it is a laboratory of coexistence, of reworking its past through a complex work on memory, often divisive, marked by easy nationalist exploitations and a rediscovery of its multiple linguistic heritage.

The Summerschool wants to investigate from a historical, linguistic, anthropological, sociological and economic point of view what is happening in this territory, with particular reference to the history of the 19th century, placing it in a European context. The opportunity is to start from the history of this cross-border territory, to imagine together with the participants new scenarios and new solutions at a general level to intercultural conflicts and the peaceful management of territories marked by the coexistence of more national and linguistic realities.

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE?

The scholars we are inviting to take part include: young people under the age of 30, university students, doctoral students and researchers from all over Europe studying humanities-related disciplines (e.g. history, anthropology, linguistics, translation, diplomatic science, sociology, political science, etc.)

HOW TO APPLY?

Those who are interested will have to submit their CV, their own Paper or Output (this can be an essay, a video or PowerPoint), with an indication of the scientific and cultural questions they would like to investigate through the Summerschool.

PARTICIPATION OUTPUT:

Participants will have to produce, as the final step of the Summerschool, a series of video-interviews that will be recorded. In these video interviews, which will be available to the public at the end of the Summerschool, participants from different European countries and areas will express their ideas on how to transform the path of integration and reworking of history commemory undertaken by this territory.

These video-interviews will be part of a video-installation that will be displayed in via Rastello 38, on monitors inside and on the windows.
The presenting papers will then be collected for their online publication on the project.

COSTS?

The entire teaching, laboratory and hiking proposal is considered an essential part of the program and will be FREE OF CHARGE.
